

Welcome to Inverclyde!

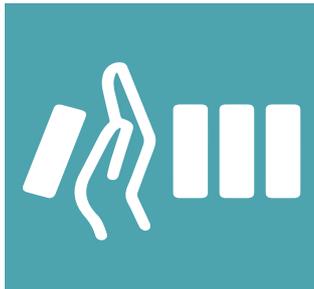

Inverclyde is one of Scotland's smallest regions which offers a broad range of sports and leisure facilities, a great variety of arts and culture activities and wide open spaces to enjoy and explore.

Our three main towns are Gourock, Greenock and Port Glasgow, with the villages of Kilmacolm and Quarrier's Village on the east, while Inverkip and Wemyss Bay are located to the west.

Inverclyde HSCP aims

Inverclyde Council and NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde have integrated planning and delivery of all community health and social care services. This includes services for children, adults, older people, along with homelessness, criminal justice, addiction recovery and Primary Care services. Together the aim is to achieve the following 4 actions:

Provide early help and intervention

To help improve the health and wellbeing of local people, we need to work differently. We must focus on supporting people at an earlier stage and minimising the impact of health and wellbeing concerns as they arise.

Improve support for Mental Health , Wellbeing and Recovery

Many people in Inverclyde are living with wellbeing concerns because of mental health conditions or experiencing harm from alcohol or drug use. Some people will have more complex concerns than others and as such, support needed will vary from person to person.

Support inclusive, safe and resilient communities

Our communities are essential in supporting us to live safe, healthy, and active lives. We hope to build on the assets in our communities to ensure that local people have the local resources they need to thrive and become the expert navigators of their own lives.

Strengthen support to families and carers

Living in a nurturing and caring household has a positive impact on a person's life chances and outcomes. Our family networks often become our carers at different life stages, ensuring we are supported and nurtured; it is therefore important to ensure families and carers are supported to provide nurturing care for their loved ones.
